Wayne/Ardmore Great Harvest Bakeries Hosts Fundraiser on April 23

Proceeds benefit the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society (LLS)

Wayne, Pa., April 19, 2010 – Great Harvest Bread Co. locations in Wayne and Ardmore will host a One Day, One Dollar, One Goal fundraiser on Friday, April 23 to support the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society's (LLS) cancer research and honor Mauri Booton, a former owner of the Des Moines, Iowa bakery, who recently died of leukemia, as well as those in our area who have suffered or died from cancer.

"Cancer is a disease that takes too many of our loved ones away," said Wayne bakery owner Jim Blumenstock, who was a good friend of Booton. "When Mauri was diagnosed with leukemia more than five years ago, he became a powerful spokesman and fundraiser for the LLS. He has inspired bakery owners across the country to continue his outstanding efforts to find a cure for cancer," added Blumenstock.

The nationwide fundraising goal is $100,000. The donations will be presented to the LLS by Mauri's wife Mary Hellerstedt, who is participating in the LLS Team in Training "Rock n' Roll" half-marathon in San Diego in June. A small portion of proceeds will also fund a Mauri Booton Memorial Scholarship.

According to Hansman, Great Harvest Bakery owners want to raise enough money to assure #1 is printed on Ms. Hellerstedt's race jersey on her special race day. The more money she contributes through the One Day, One Day, One Goal campaign, the lower her number on her running shirt.

"The Great Harvest mission statement simply states – be loose and have fun, bake phenomenal bread, run fast to help customers, and give generously to others," said Blumenstock. "Mauri Booton exemplified the mission statement in so many ways, especially when it came to giving generously. I invite customers and community members to show generosity through a one dollar donation on Friday, April 23. We will donate $1 for every customer who walks through our door. Together we can all make a difference.”
